Explanation of changes and other important information

We changed your income to include net old age security pension payments of $4,909, based on your T4A(OAS) or T4A(P) slip(s).

Based on your 2023 income, we will deduct income tax from your monthly old age security pension. From July 2024 to June 2025, the tax deducted each month will be $215.

Since your net income is more than $86,912 this year, you have to pay back $3,189.30 of the old age security pension benefits you received. We deducted the amount from your income and added it to your total payable. As a result, we changed your refund or balance owing. For more information, see the explanation for line 23500 at canada.ca/deductions-credits-expenses.

As of the date of this notice, you have unused net capital losses from other years of $83,220. This amount includes any unused net capital losses created from this assessment. You can use your unused net capital losses to reduce taxable capital gains that you report this year. If you apply this amount to another year, you may have to recalculate your unused balance. This is because of the different capital gains rates for those years. For more information, see Guide T4037, Capital Gains.

When you filed your return, you answered "yes" to the question on page 2, "Did you own or hold specified foreign property where the total cost amount of all such property, at any time in 2023, was more than CAN$100,000?" Therefore, you are required to file Form T1135, Foreign Income Verification Statement, if you have not already done so. There are substantial penalties for not filing Form T1135 by the due date. For more information see form T1135 at canada.ca/cra-forms.
